

COMMANDER R. E. PEARY TELLS CHRONOLOGICAL STORY OF COAST IN LAND OF MIDNIGHT SUN

PEARY EXPEDITION SPENT ONE DAY AT NORTH POLE

Left In Sledges February 15 and Arrived
At Top of Earth April 6.

Fast Traveling, Except When Held Up
By the Open Water.

Return Journey Began April 7, and Cape
Columbia Reached April 23.

Four Days Later Heroes Reached the Good
Ship Roosevelt.

Prof. Ross G. Marvin, Commander of Supporting Party, Drowned April 10.

OTHERS ARE REPORTED TO BE IN GOOD HEALTH.

He had announced his intention in the previous year of making his sledge route to the pole along some meridian much further to the west of his route in 1906, when he made the highest north attained up to that time—87 degrees 6 minutes. On that occasion he was greatly impeded by the rapid drift of the ice to the east, which a little retarded his progress north and, worse still, carried him so far to the east that he had to make his landing on the coast of North Greenland, many days' march from the Roosevelt, his base of supplies.

On his expedition of 1905-06 he tried very hard to force the Roosevelt a good distance to the west of Cape Sheridan, but the ice baffled him. For one reason or another, on the edge of the Arctic winter last year he did not or could not take his vessel along the northern coast of Grantland to the west of Cape Sheridan, and so she spent last winter not so very far from her old berth in the ice, in the winter of 1905-06.

Made Slow Progress To West.

The sledge expedition left the Roosevelt on February 15, while it was still practically dark in that latitude. The sun scarcely begins to peer above the hills for a few minutes a day, even several hundred miles to the south of the coast where the Roosevelt was wintering. It comes into view a little later in that more northern latitude and the party made slow time to the west as it felt its way along.

The northern Grantland coast is likely to be exceedingly difficult to traverse, especially in the early spring on account of the masses of sea ice that have been pressed on the shore or broken into great blocks and stranded along the sea edge.

Movement Westward.

It is no wonder that it took the party fifteen days to travel westward as far as Cape Columbia. It is very likely, however, that Commander Peary succeeded before winter set in, in caching supplies to the westward so as to accelerate a little the westward movement of the sledge party before it struck out northward over the sea ice. Arriving at Cape Columbia on March 15, the sledges turned to the north on the sea ice. The explorer laid much stress upon the fact that he intended to travel much further to the west than on his trip in 1905. His dispatch shows, however, that he did not take the ice as a guide further to the west than he did on his earlier trip. If, therefore, his route was really much further west than that which he had traversed earlier he must have traveled a considerable distance to the northwest over the sea ice.

The sledging conditions could not have been very unfavorable for the journey, both north and south, counting the detentions at water openings was made in very fast time for sledging on the ice on the open Polar seas.

It is not at all unusual in sledge work within forty or fifty miles of the land, for the pressure of the ice on the coast to result in the breaking and piling up of the ice into pressure ridges from twenty-five to one hundred feet in height and some times of great length, so that it is difficult either to cross or circumvent them.

Commander Peary says nothing in his summary of being detained by pressure ridges or hummocks, and it is very certain that he met with no impediments of this sort, such as made his attempt to reach the pole in 1902 a continuous and terrible struggle.

Previous Obstacles.

A great obstacle and the one that undoubtedly prevented him from reaching the pole in 1905 was the wide water lanes, or leads, some of them so long that he could not get around them. One of them kept his party idle in camp for a week and the total delay from this cause was fatal to his plans.

Last Spring's Conditions Different.

Conditions were different last spring, though he was held up by leads on the northern march about two weeks. He seems to have derived two great advantages from his very early start. In the first place it would not be until much later in the season that the water lanes would develop so far as to threaten him with defeat, and then his early start gave him all the more time to carry out his work before the wide spread break-up of the sea ice would make sledging impossible on the Polar ocean.

The vessel had threaded the comparatively narrow channels, several hundreds of miles in length, leading from Cape Sabine to the Arctic Ocean.

Conditions Were Favorable.

This journey is apt to be very difficult and sometimes impossible, but the conditions were evidently favorable. The ship that disappeared in the fog while the crew of Peary's auxiliary steamer Erik were watching her departure from Etah made a very good passage through the long channels and arrived safely on the shores of the sea where the explorer was to start on his sledges for the North Pole.

Not Far Enough West.

But at Cape Sheridan he was not as far west as he had probably hoped to

DR. COOK REPLIES TO PEARY'S CHARGES CLEARLY AND CONCISELY

New York, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The Herald publishes to-morrow morning the following signed statement by the discoverer of the North Pole.

(Copyright, 1909, By New York Herald Company.)

Copenhagen, Wednesday.—To the Editor of The Herald:

"I honestly believe I have found the North Pole and I am willing to submit all my evidence to pure scientists, astronomers and explorers, awaiting with calm and clear conscience their verdict and that of the world.

"If Commander Peary says he has discovered the pole I believe him, and while I decline to enter into a controversy with him, I feel that in justice to Mr. John R. Bradley and other friends, I must refute the statement which Commander Peary is said to have made, that I took his Eskimos and his stores. The Eskimos are nomads; they belong neither to Peary nor Cook, and I paid them ten times the value of the gun and knife agreed upon at the start.

Replies To Foolish Charges.

"In reply to the foolish charge that I did not leave the mainland, I will only say that I am organizing, at my own expense, an expedition under the command of the brave Arctic explorer, Capt. Otto Sverdrup, to go to the North and find the two boys who accompanied me to the pole and bring them to civilization to tell their story to the world. They will confirm every word of my story, and although not scientists, their evidence is entitled to the weight due to the testimony of men who are familiar with the Far North.

"Until they come, I ask the world to believe in me, and I will soon furnish to it evidence gathered by me with scientific observations and I am confident that the jury of the whole world will render the verdict that I have planted the flag of my country at the extreme North.

FREDERICK A. COOK."

"TIME WILL CONFIRM MY STATEMENTS," SAYS DR. COOK

Plans Expedition To Polar Regions To Bring Back Eskimos Who Were With Him At the "Big Nail" As Witnesses.

Copenhagen, Sept. 8.—Coming so quickly upon other dramatic incidents of the week, Commander Peary's dispatch denying that Dr. Cook had achieved the triumph for which he has been feted and honored in Copenhagen beyond the lot of any other private person, has been read here with feelings of amusement and concern. But Dr. Cook himself seems in no wise disturbed. He was perfectly cool and apparently unmoved when confronted to-night with telegrams from the United States saying that Commander Peary has denounced him as an impostor. His demeanor has not changed in the slightest from the day he landed at Copenhagen.

Danes Stand With Cook.

All day long, dispatches from America regarding Commander Peary's charges poured into Copenhagen. The newspapers contain only one unpleasant article. The Politiken, in its leader-to-night, says: "Danes, remembering Peary's bad treatment of one of their own explorers, will not be surprised at his attitude toward Dr. Cook."

Has Positive Proofs.

Dr. Cook's friends had urged him to their utmost to make any statement possible to the public, but he had said repeatedly that all he had to say for the present was that he possessed proofs that he had visited the North Pole on April 21, 1908. These proofs were convincing and in due time would be given to the world.

When it was suggested to him that his chances of proving his case might be ruined unless he made a satisfactory statement immediately, he said: "I am a quiet man—and asked how could a man be ruined by popular clamor calling him an impostor when he had proofs of his case which could and would be published, as he had oftentimes repeated, when they were in proper form to be given out."

Peary Took His Stores.

Regarding the controversy over his alleged taking of Peary's stores, Dr. Cook asserts that he has written and other satisfactory evidence that Peary took his stores, perhaps believing him dead. "Harry Whitney is personally acquainted with all the facts and perhaps what he has to say when he returns may be interesting," added the explorer. Then Cook remarked quietly: "Make as little as you can of this, and don't say anything disagreeable about Peary."

Dr. Cook told Capt. Sverdrup and another friend the day he landed here that he hoped there would be no impediments over supplies with the Peary party; that he had found some of Peary's men in possession of one of his depots and had turned them out unceremoniously.

To Bring Back Eskimos.

It is settled that Cook will send a ship back to bring to America the two Eskimos who accompanied him on the trip to the pole, and he will command the expedition; it is Dr. Cook's desire that he shall do so, and they conferred for some hours to-day regarding the details of the expedition.

Dr. Cook's purpose in bringing his Eskimo comrades to America is to have them state their stories of the trip to the pole. He proposes to have them examined by any men familiar with the Arctic and the Eskimo, including the members of Peary's party, if they wish. Dr. Cook's apparent confidence in the greatest factor working in his support in Copenhagen. Those who have had the opportunity to talk with him are only of one mind, that he is an absolutely sincere, simple man, and deserves a pedestal in history as one of the greatest actors.

Time Would Confirm Him.

When the latter alternative was suggested to him, he merely expressed the conviction that time, even if there was no other evidence, would confirm him. He stated that because of the rapid advance of the means of travel his route would soon be visited by others who could pass judgment on his testimony.

Dr. Cook's constitution is of iron. In the last three nights he has averaged three and one-half hours sleep, sitting up to the small hours, attending to his more her confidence in her husband, and in the best of data now by the United States will prove his claim.

RAP AT ENGLISH PRESS.

Germans Claim That Britishers Are Envious of Americans.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Herr Baschin, custodian of the Berlin Geographical Institute and a member of the Drygalski Expedition, was interviewed to-day on the claims of Dr. Cook and Commander Peary, each to have discovered the North Pole. He said:

"Neither I nor most other German geographers can understand why the English scholars have attacked Cook. Hitherto it has not been the custom in scientific circles to attribute falsehoods to explorers returning from unknown regions. Most polar discoveries have been made by the explorer alone, or at least without a large following. "Peary, Cagni and Nansen reached the highest altitudes alone, or accompanied only by a few Eskimos. Their measurements were taken by one person alone, and it is consequently of little importance whether the bystanders were white men or Eskimos, since no witnesses would be in a position to rectify the measurements or determine whether or not they had been correctly made."

Various German newspapers attribute the doubts raised in England to envy of the United States, or to a general spirit of unwillingness to admit that persons of any other nationality are capable of performing difficult and splendid feats.

LOOKS BAD FOR PEARY.

Statement Regarding Cook Made By a Whaler.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 8.—Some interesting statements concerning Dr. Frederick A. Cook's dash for the pole were made by Michael Wise, of this town, a seaman on the schooner Adeline, which arrived in port to-day after an extended fishing trip in Northern waters. Wise, who was married on the John R. Bradley, which carried Cook's expedition, says he was the man picked by the explorer to accompany him on the final dash after leaving Etah. Wise, however, declined, preferring his regular compensation as a seaman on a fishing schooner to the honor and glory promised him by Dr. Cook.

Wise said he had no doubt that Dr. Cook was the first man to reach the North Pole, and added that anyone who knew the explorer would not question the truth of his statements. The expedition was one of the best fitted that ever left for the North, said Wise.

Dr. Cook Sails Sunday.

Brussels, Sept. 8.—Dr. Cook is expected to reach Brussels next Saturday by way of Flushing. According to the understanding here, he will return to Flushing Sunday and continue thence to New York.

The explorer is expected to be present at two receptions, one given by the director of the Royal Observatory in the afternoon, and the second by Premier Boerhaert in the evening.

TRAGEDY IN HARDIN COUNTY

AFTER WEDDING.

W. T. KNIGHT THE SLAYER.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Manslaughter followed in the wake of a marriage at Flaherty, in Meade county, near the Harlan line. Miss Anna Belle Knight and John Corbett were married yesterday morning at St. Martin's church at Flaherty, and the young men of the vicinity determined upon giving the couple a charivari at night.

When the charivari crowd assembled at the home of William T. Knight, the father of the bride, he at once opened fire upon the noisy assemblage with a revolver. A ball struck Ches Richie in the neck, puncturing the jugular vein and inflicting a fatal wound. He died at 2 o'clock this morning. Richie, a prominent citizen of the Flaherty vicinity.

WELLMAN ABANDONS

HIS NORTH POLE TRIP.

Christiansburg, Sept. 8.—A special dispatch from Toronto to the Associated Press says that Walter Wellman has instructed his agent to arrange for the return of all the explorer's property from Virgo Bay, Spitzbergen, as well as the three men who were to have spent the winter there.

It is understood that Mr. Wellman has abandoned his plans by airship for next year.

Auto Overturns In Indiana While

Running Forty Miles An Hour.

Mooreville, Ind., Sept. 8.—Leslie Lottmer, trustee of Jackson township, was killed and Miss Mamie Seidel, of Detroit, was seriously injured near the little town of Zulu, two and a half miles west of here, to-night when an automobile driven by Charles J. Smith, a local undertaker, overturned while speeding along the country road at the rate of forty miles an hour. Mr. Smith, who was driving alone, was killed, and his wife and two daughters, Laura and Emma, and Miss Bittoria Beasles, a neighbor girl, were in the machine at the time, but escaped without serious injuries. Trustee Lottmer met death almost instantly.

Signal For War.

By those who received word of Dr. Cook's discovery with skepticism, Commander Peary's challenge yesterday was received with gratification, by those who had been neutral it came as another surprise in a series of remarkable happenings, while to Dr. Cook's supporters it was a signal for war.

Cook, if his plans do not miscarry, will sail for the United States on Sunday next, and will arrive here by September 21. By that time Commander Peary will have reached home, but no one has

The lie was hurled yesterday concerning the discovery of the North Pole and the foundation laid for a controversy unparalleled in history. Commander Peary is making unceasing progress southward off the coast of Labrador in his ship Roosevelt, but there came from him yesterday a message as direct as his homeward journey has been slow. It challenges the veracity of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, of Brooklyn, and further complicates a situation which the whole world is discussing. In effect, Peary discredits Cook's claims with the intimation that he (Peary), and he alone, planted the American flag at the North Pole, on April 6, 1909, and that Dr. Cook, who asserts that he unfurled the flag at the pole on April 21, 1908, must substantiate his claim.

FELL TO DEATH FROM AEROPLANE

WHILE MAKING TEST.

ITALIAN AVIATOR IS KILLED
THREE ACCIDENTS AT THE MEET AT BRESCIA.

CURTIS MAKES A KICK.

Milan, Sept. 8.—While Signor Possi, an aviator, was testing an apparatus of his own invention yesterday, the machine fell from a height of twenty yards. Possi was killed and a passenger with him was injured.

Curtis Kicks.

Curtis declared that he had known the conditions of the field he would not have come to Brescia.

ACCIDENTS AT BRESCIA.

Three Machines Damaged in the Flights.

Brescia, Italy, Sept. 8.—The aviation meeting, in which many noted aviators will take part, opened today under conditions that were not altogether auspicious. Many thousands of spectators gathered around the field, but they were forced to bear a number of disappointments, as with the exception of short flights by Glenn H. Curtiss, the American aviator, and Bleriot, the attempts of the other aviators to fly were failures.

Several accidents occurred. Bleriot collided with a tree, the propeller of his machine being broken. He was not hurt. Anzani also broke the propeller of his machine in a test flight and Lieut. Claderani later came to grief in a similar manner. Claderani's machine was damaged. It was intended originally that Lefebvre, who was killed yesterday at Juvisy, should be the pilot of this machine. Lieut. Claderani took his place today. Scarcely had he started when the aeroplane tilted so violently that in the effort to bring it on an even keel again the rudder was smashed. The honors of the day went to Curtiss.

AMERICAN BREAKS RECORD.

Capt. Cody Gives Wonderful Exhibition With Aeroplane.

Aldershot, Eng., Sept. 8.—During a dead calm it was an early hour today that Capt. F. S. Cody, the American aviator, who has been in the service of the British army for several years, achieved what is being regarded as the world's record for a cross-country flight in an aeroplane.

In the big and cumbersome machine which is his own invention, Capt. Cody remained in the air for one hour and three minutes, covering in that time a distance of over forty miles. He crossed over the valleys that intersect the plain of Aldershot, passed over and around the barracks, and circled the spire of the village church.

His machine was under perfect control at times rising to an altitude of 400 feet. It traveled occasionally at the rate of fifty miles an hour. Cody had to land because his fuel gave out. As he was descending, he struck the ground rather forcibly, but he was only slightly damaged.

Arden, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Rumors that E. H. Harriman was in a critical condition gained renewed currency here shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. At the same time the brilliant air light which has heretofore burned on Tower Hill all night was suddenly extinguished. Reported calls to the telephone exchange at Highland Mills, which gives connection to the Harriman residence, afforded no response. Previously connection would be obtained at all hours of the night.

While these occurrences may have no direct bearing on Mr. Harriman's illness, yet they tend to increase the alarm.

Turner, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Edward H. Harriman's condition seems to have improved on the evening of Tuesday. A brief statement was issued from the house in the morning, and notwithstanding its non-committal character, taken in the light of reports gathered elsewhere, it pointed to a certain degree of encouragement. All statements from Mr. Harriman's friends were more guarded and nobody seemed willing to vouch for a long stride forward.

Ground Not Regained.

Mr. Harriman, according to all sources of information, is far from having regained the ground lost Sunday. William Gordon, Jr., secretary of the American National Bank, who is in the city, said that Mr. Harriman is better today. That was all there was to it, and gave no more than the assurance that his chief had managed to stand up under the shocks which he sustained early in the week.

Oxygen Used.

Oxygen is being used in an effort to stimulate the activity of Mr. Harriman's heart, and to-night two men, two physicians, were hurried to Arden House in the morning, and were given the oxygen treatment. Mr. Harriman, who is in the city, said that Mr. Harriman is better today. That was all there was to it, and gave no more than the assurance that his chief had managed to stand up under the shocks which he sustained early in the week.

Improved, Says Preacher.

"I don't want to say anything," said the Rev. J. J. McGinnis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who was a visitor on Tower Hill yesterday. "I have made a statement to the effect that Mr. Harriman was better. 'Is that all?' he said. 'Then you can quote me as saying that Mr. Harriman is improved.'"

Mr. Harriman's sister, Mrs. Mary Simpson, was not in the city yesterday. When a young man called upon her, it was said that she had gone up to Arden House.

"Does that mean," came the inquiry, "that Mr. Harriman is worse and that Mrs. Simpson's attendance was asked to be discontinued?"

"Not at all," was the reply. "On the contrary, it means that the reports are most encouraging."

Reports of Operation.

The rumor that Mr. Harriman was operated on for a cancerous growth yesterday was repeated in Turner on Wall street. While it is known that the operation was performed, it is not known whether it was successful or not. Mr. Harriman, who is in the city, said that Mr. Harriman is better today. That was all there was to it, and gave no more than the assurance that his chief had managed to stand up under the shocks which he sustained early in the week.

TOWNS WIPED OUT BY FLOODS

Thousands of People Missing In Mexico.

May Have Perished Or Taken To Hills.

Village Priests Tell Story of Disaster.

NO CHANCE FOR RELIEF.

Monterey, Mex., Sept. 8.—A number of village priests, after making journeys over miles of devastated country, have arrived here, bringing the first news of the destruction wrought by the recent floods in the outlying districts. Their stories indicate that the havoc is more widespread and terrible than was at first believed. The priest of Aramberi has informed Archbishop Lenares that Aramberi was destroyed and to-day his people are wandering over the country in search of food. The destruction of the roads has made it impossible to send in relief supplies.

The story brought in by the priest of La Ascension is to the effect that this town and its population of 2,000 souls have entirely disappeared. He does not know where the people are. They may have taken to the hills, or they may have perished. "Not a stone was left upon a stone in La Ascension," the village priest said. "Where there was once rich farms there is now nothing but water."

Another priest from Allende says that place also has disappeared with large loss of life and that the neighboring fields have been converted into lakes. The priests were more than a week in making their way into Monterey. They described the destruction as the most awful that ever has been experienced in Mexico. Aid is urgently needed in these outlying districts, particularly as the authorities are busy with Monterey and its vicinity.

WRIGHT FLIES OVER BERLIN

CARRIES ARMY OFFICER WITH HIM ON HIS SECOND TRIP IN THE AIR.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Orville Wright made two successful flights to-day over the Tempelhof parade grounds. Alone he flew twenty-four miles in thirty-six minutes, but on his second flight he carried Capt. von Hildebrand as a passenger and flew for seven minutes, a distance of over forty miles.

A distinguished company witnessed Mr. Wright's flights and it is estimated that fully 200,000 people were on the parade grounds. Mr. Wright was enthusiastically cheered when he landed.

FOUNDERS FATAL

Frank Lawrence Victim of Negro Shooting Affray.

LEXINGTON COMMERCIAL CLUB BOOSTING MEDICAL SCHOOL.

PROSPECTS FOR ESTABLISHING BRANCH COLLEGE GOOD.

TWO DAMAGE SUITS FILED.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Frank Lawrence, the white man who was shot on the night of August 14 during a fight among negroes in the saloon of George Shelby, on Water street, died last night from his wound. Lawrence was about 28 years old and was a tobacco tenant on a farm near South Elkhorn, in this county, and was unmarried. He had taken no part in the fight among the negroes and was probably shot accidentally. The bullet entered his body near the heart and it was at first thought he would recover. His condition, however, took a change for the worse yesterday, from which he did not rally. Noah Drake, the negro who fired the fatal shot, had been arrested and the charge against him was to-day changed from malicious shooting to murder. Lawrence was sitting on a beer keg in a saloon when a fight started between Drake, who was armed with a knife, and a negro named Booker. During the melee a bullet struck Lawrence, Booker was slightly wounded in the head and foot and George Shelby was shot through the right hand. The Lexington Commercial Club, which is boosting the medical school, is holding a meeting to-day to discuss the prospects for establishing a branch college good.

Boosting For Medical School.

President James T. Watkins, of the Commercial Club, to-day issued a formal call for the mass meeting of the Commercial Club and citizens generally to be held at the courthouse to-morrow for the purpose of boosting the proposition to establish a medical college for Kentucky State University with branches both in this city and Louisville. WILL MAKE RACE

Dr. Edward Boss Candidate On Todd Republican Ticket.

SEEKS THE OFFICE OF CITY TAX RECEIVER.

DECLARES REGULAR NOMINEE IS INELIGIBLE FOR PLACE.

GOES AFTER ADMINISTRATION.

On the strength of his attorney's opinion to the effect that H. H. McCulloch, the present City Tax Receiver, cannot lawfully succeed himself in office, Dr. Edward Boss, yesterday announced himself as a candidate for the position on the Independent Republican ticket, headed by George D. Todd for Mayor. In an official statement, issued by Dr. Boss explaining his action in coming out as a supporter of Mr. Todd and his policies, Dr. Boss states that his attorney, after due and careful consideration, finds that Mr. McCulloch is ineligible to succeed himself.

Dr. Edward Boss, who announced himself as candidate for Tax Receiver in case he is elected, is to be thrown out of office, if elected on the Grinstead ticket, should the Grinstead ticket be elected. The statement of Dr. Boss follows: "To the Citizens of Louisville: After an exhaustive examination by my attorney as to the eligibility of H. H. McCulloch to serve the people as City Tax Receiver in case he is elected, he gives it as his opinion that Mr. McCulloch is ineligible to fill the office. He now holds after his present term comes to a close. I therefore, announce myself as an Independent Republican candidate for Tax Receiver. I heartily endorse the platform set forth by George D. Todd favoring the poor people of the city in the way of lower car fares, cheaper gas and free water connections.

Burdens Not Lightened.
The Grinstead administration, in my opinion, has done nothing to lighten the burdens of the small property owner in this city. On the contrary the administration has added to the care of the people by increasing the taxes and by charging the people for connections. I ask my friends to rally to the support of the Independent Republican ticket, to elect Dr. Edward Boss.

How To Find Latitude.
To illustrate this operation, the latitude of any place is the same angle as the altitude of the pole in the zenith. The angle from the zenith to the celestial equator. All the mariner does is to take the distance from the zenith to the celestial equator. To take the simplest case, on March 21, when the sun is on the equator, the angle from the zenith to the sun is the latitude of the place. If the sun is 30 degrees, he then has the distance from the equator to the zenith, that is, 30 degrees.

NORTH POLE FOUND FROM SUN

AND OBSERVATIONS ARE SIMPLE University of Chicago Astronomer Says All That's Needed Is a Sextant, Pan of Mercury, Silvered Glass and Spirit Level.

A sextant, a pan of mercury, a piece of silvered glass and a spirit level are the simple apparatus that will locate the North Pole, according to Prof. Edwin B. Frost, director of the Yerkes observatory, the University of Chicago. The instrument is a sextant, a pan of mercury, a piece of silvered glass and a spirit level. The sextant is used to measure the altitude of the sun. The pan of mercury is used to reflect the sun's image. The silvered glass is used to reflect the sun's image. The spirit level is used to level the sextant.

Used Silvered Glass.

"Peary and Cook probably found it too cold for the mercury. In that case they could obtain the level with a spirit level and then use silvered glass instead of mercury, though this is not quite so accurate as the other method. In the long arctic night the computations are made by the stars, but this does not apply to Peary and Cook's present feat."

Remains At Same Altitude.

"To state it briefly and simply, you know you have reached the pole when the sun skims around in a circle all day at the same altitude in the heavens," said Prof. Frost. "The instruments are merely used to ascertain this altitude. The operation is the same as commonly used by mariners and is done by anyone with a knowledge of trigonometry."

The arctic explorer, of course, can always tell how far he is from the pole by computing the latitude. Approaching the pole, the altitude of the sun changes with the hours of the day. The altitude of the sun is the angle between the horizon and the sun. The altitude of the sun is the angle between the horizon and the sun.

Pole Shifts Continually.

The scientific knowledge that the true axis of the earth is not an invariable point—in fact, that no one spot on the world's surface can be exactly identified as the North Pole, was brought out by Prof. Frost. The pole actually shifts about 15 inches a year. The pole shifts continually.

How To Find Latitude.

To illustrate this operation, the latitude of any place is the same angle as the altitude of the pole in the zenith. The angle from the zenith to the celestial equator. All the mariner does is to take the distance from the zenith to the celestial equator. To take the simplest case, on March 21, when the sun is on the equator, the angle from the zenith to the sun is the latitude of the place. If the sun is 30 degrees, he then has the distance from the equator to the zenith, that is, 30 degrees.

CHARLES H. NORMAN WITH-DRAWS HIS SUPPORT.

Steps Down Because of Business Reasons—He Will Support W. O. Head For Mayor.

The latest man to sever his connection with the Tyler ticket is Charles H. Norman, announced by the Tyler people as a candidate for Alderman. When asked yesterday if the report that he had withdrawn from the Tyler ticket was founded on the truth, Mr. Norman replied in the affirmative. He declined to discuss the resignation, which was sent to the Tyler people about a week ago, at any length. He said: "Business and other reasons caused me to resign."

To this brief explanation Mr. Norman added that he intended to support W. O. Head, the recognized Democratic candidate for Mayor, on the ticket placed in the draw at the legal convention, during the campaign.

Mr. Norman is the second man on the Tyler ticket to leave that alliance and announce his intention to support Mr. Head.

ANNUAL REPORTS

Heard At Morning Session of W. O. N. A. R. D.

LATE-HOUR TRADE IS DWELT UPON IN PAPER.

PREPARED BY DAISY A. FRICK, A REGISTERED PHARMACIST.

TALKS OF SOOTHING SYRUP.

Late-hour trade in drug stores was dwelt upon in an interesting paper prepared by Miss Daisy A. Frick, a registered pharmacist and member of the W. O. N. A. R. D. and the W. O. N. A. R. D. The paper was read by Mrs. Leslie O. Wallace at the opening of the second day's session of the W. O. N. A. R. D. in the Red room at The Seelbach yesterday morning. That much of the late-hour trade is merely habit and an old-time custom was the opinion of Miss Frick. The important features of the paper follow:

"People take it for granted that a drug store is always open and they can get their drug wants at any time. We must not our assistance to educating the public to better hours for the druggist. We must help the druggist get out of the old rut of keeping open the pharmacy until unhealthily hours. We must open our eyes and hearts to the fact that the druggist is also a human being and has the right to live as a human being rather than as a machine."

"It frequently happens that the human anatomy needs repairing at the same time that the heart and soul are seeking solace, and the man of the hoe will visit his physician, previous to his prayers, and will call for his medicine after church. So how can the philanthropic pharmacist shut his doors and heart to any cry of the needy because it is the Sabbath day?" she wrote, adding:

Night-Buying a Habit.

"On the other hand, in the cities, where the doctors have office hours and people are accustomed to see their physicians during those hours, the Sunday-closing hours can be more easily regulated. People can be educated to fill their prescriptions during business hours. During the week, the same as they do their other wants. It seems to me not so much that the trade depends as that the trade is allowed to impose upon the druggist and his freedom of time."

"If mothers could know the evil effects of this dread narcotic, they would shun the soothing syrups and the paracetic bottle as they would the most poisonous remedy. You can buy it quietly after a dose, and it is such a grand opportunity to accomplish so many of the other duties. If it were known that opium and soothing syrups generally contain them—impair the delicate gray matter in the wee baby head, that the constant hypnotic dose retards the mind as well as the body, that the nervous system is gradually being shattered, that the liver and other organs are exactly like those of a natural normal functions, as a result of opiates, would a mother suffer her child to incur such consequences?"

"In the near future, the mother is absolutely ignorant. It is the pharmacist's duty to enlighten her upon the properties of the drug when he has the opportunity as he often has."

"The public should be inspired with more confidence in the man behind the counter. The assurance that his welfare at heart is worth something. Many an eager heart would be glad to grasp the facts that the kind-hearted druggist could offer help and help."

After Mrs. Wallace had finished reading this paper the report of the board of directors was presented, followed by the report of the Boston chapter. Then came the reports of the chapters at Chicago, Washington, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Mobile.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon 100 of the visiting delegates to the W. O. N. A. R. D. were entertained with an automobile ride through the city. Fifteen automobiles with the one containing Horace Taylor, chairman of the committee, and having charge of trip, at their head, whirled the visitors to Cherokee Park, to Inokouls and then to Shuener, where the delegates were brought back to the city in time to go on the trip up the river.

To-day's Order of Business.

In the red room of The Seelbach the Woman's Organization will begin the fourth day of their fourth annual convention at 10 o'clock this morning. The order of business is as follows:

Reading of minutes of previous sessions. Reading of notices, Mrs. J. F. Forbrich. Reading of papers. Open conference, miscellaneous business.

The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 o'clock. Report of committee on resolutions. Report of committee on nominations. Reading of notices. Election and installation of officers. Reception to officers and new members.

Refreshments and music will be among the features of the euchre given for the visiting women delegates in the parlors of The Seelbach at 8:30 o'clock this evening.

Heart of the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse District

A Most Desirable Local Warehouse Site

SITUATED ON SOUTHWEST CORNER OF TENTH AND MONROE STREETS.

About 200 feet north of Main street, lot being 320x200 feet, all CITY IMPROVEMENTS made. The owner is a non-resident, wants the property sold; therefore makes the very low price of $156 per front foot on this centrally-located piece of ground. Should out-of-town tobacco growers be in the market for this character of property, this certainly is a first-class opportunity to buy a lot upon which to erect a large centrally-located warehouse; and can borrow money to improve same at 4 1/2 per cent, per annum. At this low rate of interest both lot and improvements, the rental would not exceed $375 per month. Considering the storing capacity of a building of these dimensions with an area of 168,000 square feet on two floors, and modern warehouse appliance, will hold about 10,000 hogsheads of tobacco, thereby making it one of the largest, best-equipped and cheapest tobacco warehouses in that locality. Parties interested in the foregoing description can get terms, see plans specially drawn of a warehouse for this lot, and at the same time get an estimated cost of the said contemplated tobacco warehouse improvements at my office, 211 Keller Building. JOS. J. McCLOSKEY, Louisville.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 8.—Chicago's batting rally in the ninth inning, coupled with a costly error by Miller, gave the visitors to-day's game with Pittsburgh by a score of 4 to 2. Brilliant play marked the game. A catch by Schulte in the fifth inning was wonderful. Running far out into right field the player, with his back to the diamond, reached out and caught Miller's hit that would have gone for a home run.

The game was one of the most remarkable for many arguments with the umpire. Every close decision was the subject of dispute, Stanley, who was coaching for the visitors, being out of the field by Umpire O'Day for becoming too insistent in his talk.

Chicago secured two runs in the second inning. Chance singled, Steinfield was hit by a pitched ball, both players moving to a base on Tinker's single and both scoring on a wild throw to the plate by Abstein. The winning runs were scored in the ninth after Schulte's hit fanned. Chance singled to center and went to third on Steinfield's hit to right. Hoffman walked, filling the bases. Tinker hit to Miller, who fumbled the ball, Chance scored, and Tinker being safe at first. Archer singled, scoring Steinfield. Hoffman was caught at the plate on Brown's tap to Byrne and Zimmerman fled to Leach.

Pittsburgh tied the score in the fourth inning. Wagner was hit by a pitched ball and went to second on Miller's single. Both runners moved up on Abstein's sacrifice and scored when Wilentz pitched to the plate.

Gibson tied the world's record for the number of consecutive games caught in a season by performing brilliantly in the sixth inning and was the star of the game in the seventh inning, while out of the box in the seventh inning, while

Announcement was made to-day that the game between Philadelphia and New York, scheduled for to-day, would be postponed to to-morrow.

NEW RECORD FOR A LOCAL SHORTSTOP.

THE Nunnallys were defeated by the Madison, Ind., team several days ago by the score of 2 to 1 and in this game what is thought to be a world's record was established. In that Roy De Hart, shortstop for the locals, did not have a chance in the field. Riser, at third, who was on the same side of the diamond, had five chances, and McCloskey, at second, had eleven. This shows that Nunnallys, the pitcher, had good speed and that the opposing batters were swinging late. But the reason the third baseman should have five chances and the shortstop none can only be attributed to the vagaries of baseball. It is such things that this earns for the game the title of "the national pastime."

Warner was knocked off the rubber in the sixth inning. Collins was the game in this inning with a home run drive, which also scored Melchior. Scores:
